LIBERTY FABRICS LAUNCHES ART COLOURS New Plains collection

The new Art Colours pays homage to Liberty Fabrics' rich heritage and colour innovation with a wide breadth of plains for interiors and introducing surprisingly vibrant archive hues with colours inspired by plants, minerals and birds from around the world. The offer of 110 fabrics ranges from contemporary corduroys, sumptuous cotton velvets, and recycled tumbled linens, to beautiful bouclé's, expertly woven and dyed in Italy and India. Art Colours is the perfect complement to the curated colour palettes in Liberty's wallpaper and patterned fabric collections.

When Arthur Liberty first opened in 1875, his stock consisted solely of coloured, plain silks from the East. Initially importing soft wools from Kashmir, transparent gauzes and fine light cottons from India, together with plain woven and damask silks from China and Japan. These were available in a huge range of shades and became known as 'Liberty Art Colours'

In this collection, Liberty heroes a love of colour. Rich botanical greens of Artichoke, Kelp, Fern, Moss, and Nettle are offset against vibrant Yarrow and Orpiment. Rare specimens of Lapis and Quartz are paired with dusty Smalt Blue, Spinel, vibrant Flax Flower, and Wax Wing blue. Rich jewel tones of Tourmaline, Jadeite, Beetle and Scarab, are offset by earthy tones of Red Lac, Amaranth, and lacquer. These sophisticated palettes offer an extensive range of deep classic hues, luxurious vibrant colour, and vital shades in between.

Art Colours is arranged as rich plush textures and dry linen mix fabrics
